

Meet GLO

Gloria “Glo” Redding is the CEO / Founder, and Education/Family Life Consultant of GLO: Generating Learning Opportunities. Recently she launched her new book, Generating Learning Opportunities: Family Values with Actions That Lead to Academic Achievements. Both the business exemplifies her knowledge, passion, and life commitment to engaging and empowering families, educators, and communities. Glo proposes that many societal challenges can be eradicated by establishing and applying family values, which influence academic achievement and lead to optimal quality of life.

Gloria is a graduate of The Ohio State University, where she earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Home Economics and a Master of Liberal Studies degree in Human Ecology. Glo is a National Council of Family Relations Emeritus Member.

About the Book

Glo is the author of “Generating Learning Opportunities: Family Values with Actions that Lead to Academic Achievement”. She is a remarkable southern-born girl who will permit you a close-up and transparent view of her life story. Glo’s parents did not graduate from high school; but she gleaned something special that wasn’t found in a textbook. Her path included multiple distractions. Glo candidly share perspectives and strategies from her from her professional experience (or career), academic (or endeavors) research, family advocacy, and personal parenting journey. She shares a priceless connection between family values, actions, academic achievement, and personal success.

Training and Speaking

Gloria “Glo” Redding enthusiastically offers inspiring, interactive, custom-designed services to meet client needs, and family values are the foundation for it all. One can hear her wisdom, knowledge, and passion through training, consulting, coaching, speaking engagements, and GLO-Chat (our personalized, casual, interactive community conversation). Multiple populations are within our scope of services, including schools, churches, social service providers, businesses, government agencies, organizations, families, and individuals.
